Rainer Glaser floats down Missouri River

By Chelsea Sektnan

July 13, 2009 | 12:01 a.m. CDT

Rainer Glaser, a Columbia resident, points to the storm clouds in the distance while floating down the Missouri river for the Big Canoe Float on Saturday. The Big Canoe Float was postponed once due to weather but eventually was rescheduled. The event did eventually get rained on, but most canoers found it a welcome relief from the heat of the sun on the river.
